Volunteers to be honored

The countless hours of volunteer work performed in Elk Point and district by an astounding number of tireless and dedicated individuals will be recognized next Tuesday evening, when the Elk Point Family and Community Support Services and the Elk Point and District Regional Recreational and Cultural Board combine to host a Volunteer Appreciation Night. The evening of entertainment, presentation of certificates of appreciation, door prize draws, and refreshments will be held at the Community Services Centre on Tuesday, April 15, beginning at 8:00 p.m., and all volunteers are urged to attend.

Chamber seeks missing banner

Question of the week at April 2nd's regular meeting of Elk Point Chamber of Commerce was, "Where's our banner?" The large, colorful and fringe-decked parade banner has not been seen since last Canada Day, and no-one present could shed any light on its whereabouts. Anyone knowing where this important item of Chamber property is, please contact President Murray Harper or the Lakeland Review office.

A total of seventeen members and guests were present for the meeting, which discussed the usual wide range of business.

Harper reported that he had contacted the Alberta Chamber of Commerce in Edmonton regarding the benefits of membership in the Chamber. While that office had no literature to forward, they offered to send a speaker, at the Elk Point Chamber's convenience, to outline the workings of the Alberta Chamber and the advantages of joining that group. Don Galloway of B & R Transport noted that he had attended a meeting of the Grand Centre Chamber at which the Alberta Chamber President spoke, and suggested that a noon meeting would not be of adequate length to do such a speaker justice.

The operations of the Tourist Information Booth were again on the agenda, with Town Liaison Committee member Alvina Schuhmacher reporting that Council did not react favorably to her question regarding moving of the booth to Town land adjacent to the library. Mrs. Schuhmacher noted that at one time, the Town had offered a parcel of highway property near the church, but the Chamber had not taken the Town up on the offer. The Chamber was reminded that a motion two meetings ago had determined that the booth should be left in its present site until the highway reconstruction is done.

Ron Barwick cited some facts regarding the relocation of tourist booths in Bonnyville and St. Paul. Bonnyville's booth was moved from a lakeside spot to the highway and enjoyed a healthy increase in registrations, while St. Paul moved its booth from beside the Landing Pad to a downtown site, and had a subsequent decrease in registrations.

Also on the subject of tourism, Ron Barwick reported that plans for the April 19 Lakeland Tourist Association meeting in Elk Point are well in hand. The BPO Elks Lodge has donated the use of their lodge room for the meeting, and the OORP has offered to provide coffee. The Chamber will be supplying the noon meal at the Empress. Barwick said that it is hoped to include a tour of the oil patch in the day's agenda, if some local business can be prevailed upon to finance the bus.

Frank Mayner of the Elk Point Historical Society was on hand to give an update on the status of the Buckingham House-Fort George historic sites. Briefs on the reconstruction of the sites have been well received by Alberta Culture, but are presently "just sitting", with no action foreseen in the near future. The Historical Society is now asking the Town for a supporting brief, and would like the Chamber to back the Town's efforts. The Chamber voted to send a letter to the Town indicating their wishes in this respect. Sid Holthe said that the Historical Society hopes to present the issue to Council at their April 14 meeting.

Membership drive underway

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce is getting their 1986 membership drive underway this week, with Membership Committee personnel contacting each business in Elk Point in the very near future.

Membership fees will again hold the line, with a single membership priced at $15, businesses with one to four employees paying $25, five to seven employees paying $30 and businesses with eight or more employees paying $35.

Committee off to early start

Elk Point's Canada Day Committee got off to an early start at their organizational meeting last week, with just one day less than three months to go before the day-long celebration, which looks like being the biggest and best ever.

Karen Reed was elected as this year's chairperson. She takes over from Sid Holthe, whom she assisted last year, and who chaired the 1984 Canada Day. Marie Buck was elected this year's secretary.

The 1986 Canada Day theme is Transportation and Communication, in keeping with the Expo 86 theme.

The ever expanding format of the Canada Day program prompted the new committee to make a decision to move the centre of activities to the grassed area north of the A.G. Ross Agricentre, if conditions permit.

A number of sub-committees were formed to work on the various facets of the program, with suggestions coming thick and fast as to activities, entertainment and other attractions.

Attendance was small at the first meeting, but enthusiasm was in abundance. The Canada Day Committee asks all the organizations whose representative could not attend the April 2 meeting, to please have a representative at their next meeting on May 7. Please, mark your calendars now!

The crows are back, along with the starlings. The geese are flying north. Where are the robins?

The conversation turns now to calving, the hard pulls and the funny things that happen, and the wonder and relief at watching the healthy calves running and playing together.

It is even a relief to see the dust blowing, after slopping through all the mud.

The Bridge Opening Committee was also represented by Holthe, who presented a report asking for the Chamber's approval of the proposed budget so that work can get underway, and noting that once the budget was approved, application could be made to Alberta Culture for some available funding. The budget was approved, but not without some concern that this would leave the Chamber's coffers nearly empty. The Chamber's Nominations Committee will be asked to find a committee to find volunteer workers for the event.

The two billion dollar program

By Alban Bugej

Executive Secretary
Alberta Cow Calf Association

The recently announced two billion dollars to be made available for agricultural loans is a move in the right direction. The Alberta Cow Calf Association has been asking for long term programs for agriculture instead of the band-aid type of which we have too many. The Provincial Government has now initiated this twenty year term program with money to be lent at a fixed rate of 9 per cent interest.

From the response the ACCA is getting from producers, the 9 per cent interest is still too high. Considering present prices for our commodities, farmers could not afford rates higher than six per cent.

The Alberta Cow Calf Association also feels that the upper limit of loans under this program of $200,000 per operator is rather low.

The announcement does not address the immediate problem faced by a large number of farmers who are having difficulty obtaining the necessary funds to put in a crop this spring.

An immediate cash influx into the agriculture and rural economy is still needed.

The Alberta Cow Calf Association maintains that a $50 acreage payment should be granted to ensure that the 1986 crop is seeded.

Elk Point PeeWees win silver in Provincials

By Rodger McLaughlin

This past weekend the Elk Point PeeWees were in Provost to compete in PeeWee "C" Provincial Finals.

Game #1 was played against Standard and we were really put to the test as Standard was a fast skating and an excellent passing team. They proved it with an 8-5 victory.

Game #2 against Provost was a real test for the boys. By close checking and good hitting we slowed them down to come out victorious 7-3.

Game #3 was played against Valleyview, a hard working team who really plays hockey and hates the penalty box. This was a do or die game, if we had lost this we would have to head for home. Both teams played their best. At the end of the 1st period it was E.P. 3 - Valleyview 2; at the end of the 2nd period, E.P. 5 - Valleyview 4, during the 3rd period E.P. scored a lone goal to win 6-4 and advance to the semi-finals against Coronation.

Now they are on the tough standing and they don't want to go home yet, there's a final game for the championship coming up. Let's go Elk Point. At the end of period #1 - 3 goals each; at the end of the the second period, Coronation is leading us 7-6. We hang in there!

During the third period we gave it all, scoring 5 goals to Coronations 1. We did it, 11-8 and are now going for the gold against Mayerthorpe.

With only 2½ hours rest we're back at it. At the end of a hard fought 1st period - 1 goal each. That's close. I guess the boys ran low on gas as Mayerthorpe out scored us 8-1 in the second period. Well, what the heck - 1 more period and that's it for another year of hockey. Mayerthorpe scored 2 - E.P. 1 on the third period for a final score of Mayerthorpe 11 - E.P. 3.

This was Mayerthorpe's third year in Provincial Playoff and first ever medal and they won the "Gold". Standard has been in Provincial Playoffs for 5 years and have yet to take home better than Bronze. This is Elk Point's first Provincials and to come home with a Silver - THAT'S FANTASTIC!

National Wildlife Week

This week, April 6 to 13, has been set aside as National Wildlife Week, with the theme, "Together we can help wildlife."

The nation-wide focus of the event is on the need to help endangered species of plant and animal life, and to protect habitat. On a local basis, this may not seem too important. Our two most familiar species of wildlife, the Richardsons Ground Squirrel, or gopher, and the dandelion, are slaughtered in great quantity, but are far from extinction at this point.

Still, it is up to us, the human caretakers of this beautiful part of Canada, to behave in a safe, careful and responsible manner in our interaction with nature. Over-hunting and over-trapping are largely regulated by government, but the regulations are sometimes abused, with hunting out of season, leaving the carcasses of trophy animals to rot while taking home only the antlers, hunting species which are protected by law, and catching far more than the limited numbers of fish.

Abuse of habitat is even more prevalent, with little thought given to the animals to whom the logged-out forest had formerly been a home, the fish whose lives are disturbed by the building of hydroelectric dams, the beavers and muskrats made homeless by the draining of wetlands, and the wholesale destruction caused by thoughtless burning of fields and forests.

This is a week to open your eyes to the reborn, spring beauty of the world around us, to glory in it, and to resolve to protect it from unnecessary harm. It's ours to care for, and to enjoy.

Busy summer ahead

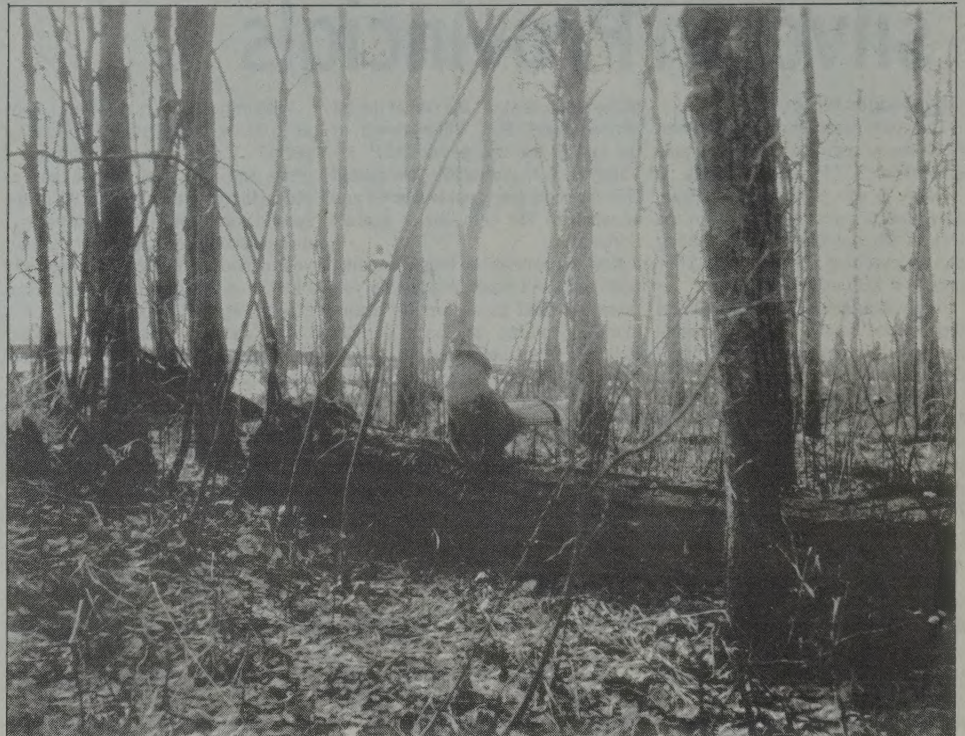

It's barely spring, but plans are in motion for events which will make it a busy, active summer in Elk Point and district.

The official opening of the new bridge in early June, the action-packed Canada Day celebrations on July 1, and the Agricultural Fair in mid-August will keep us all hopping, along with the usual array of 4-H shows, ball tournaments, and rodeos.

Nor will the activities be confined to weekends -- to?

playground programs, softball, fastball, slowpitch and minor ball leagues are in the planning, and we're told that the golfers are getting anxious to get into action, too. Long summer evenings are also a perfect time to head to the beautiful lakes in our vicinity, either for an evening swim or to see which will bite first: the fish or the mosquitoes.

It's been a long, long winter. Aren't you glad it's over and we have so much to look forward

NOT MANY YEARS AGO WE SAW PARTRIDGES — (Ruffed grouse) whenever we walked through the woods or drove down country roads. Some kids of today may grow old and never see one. This is a male on "drumming log". My request: DO NOT SHOOT: DO NOT SPRAY: DO NOT BURN NEEDLESSLY. I. Magnusson

We need more than a week

By Irene Magnusson

April 6 to 12, 1986, has been declared National Wildlife Week, by the Canadian Wildlife Federation, Environment Canada and the Province of Alberta, to bring to our attention the loss of wildlife, the loss of habitat, and some of the things we can do to remedy this deplorable situation.

Unless we all become more aware of the problems, and give heed to some of the suggestions put forth by those who have the preservation of our wildlife heritage at heart, we will suffer irreversible depletion of flora and fauna in our great country.

One doesn't have to read Farley Mowat's "Sea of Slaughter" to realize we humans have been less than human with the abundant fish, fowl and mammals we were blessed with - but it helps. He has certainly painted a dark picture.

If there were enough knowledge, enough proof, and perhaps one could add - enough laws, could we stem the disappearance of such rare wildflowers as the lady slipper, the small bog orchid, the crocus, (yes, I'm sorry to say even the crocus which once cloaked our hillsides as far as the eye could see are almost gone) the tiger lily, shooting star - need I go on? Could we stop their disappearance? Perhaps the real question is - do we want to?

To me that is not a question at all. I would love to see every roadside bathed in wildflowers. I would like to see the miles of buffalo bean spread golden yellow along the way, as once they did. I would love to see the pools of blue violets and drifts of purple shooting stars along every slough, wild roses in every fenceline, banks of fireweed at the rim of every wood. I want the roadsides fragrant and white with saskatoon blossoms and cherry blossoms wherever I drive. Don't you?

But somehow we seem to think all these should and must be destroyed, since the sprays and poisons are so readily available, but what are we thinking for the future? Nature deplores a vacant space. Every bare spot, stripped of its wildflowers, will soon support some spray-resistant weed, unlovely, undesirable and unsprayable.

Then we can think of some of the minor mammals we are driving from our land. How long since you've seen a lynx, a coyote, a fox or a deer? I'm sure most of you will have to say you have not seen them for a long time. They were once abundant around here. We have systematically deprived them of habitat, burning the forests, bulldozing the brush, again - spraying the roadsides and fencelines.

Of course, land must be cleared for farming, but why not leave a strip around that slough, along that draw, a grove here and there? These places do not produce much crop, yet they would serve to house a family - or many families - of wildlife.

Consider our lakes. And they are our most attractive asset, here in Alberta's Lakelands. Where once they teemed with fish, large and small, now there are few. And those left are very small indeed. Some lakes have been polluted with substances poisonous to fish, some from unknown sources, some is deliberate carelessness. Over-fishing is also a crime committed by the thoughtless. Finally there are some restraining rules being brought in, to control fishing in spawning season. One hopes they will be enforced.

We here in the Lakeland can well be concerned about the fate of the St. Lawrence buluga whale, the Vancouver Island marmot, the wood bison and the Eskimo curlew. But we should be much more concerned about the prairie chicken, the meadow lark, the ruffed grouse, the bluebird, our lovely wildflowers. These - and many other wildlife - were our rich heritage, abounding and generous when the pioneers came to settle our land. Why are we so careless, so wasteful, of our heritage?

All one has to do is drive through the southern prairies, to know how greatly we were blessed with our woods and shrubs. Or watch a TV screen, with some wind-blown, naked, barren landscape, the people starving and desperate, to know this is what we will end up with if we do not take care.

It's very thoughtful of the powers that be to declare a National Wildlife Week - but we need more than a week. We need the rest of our lives, to gain awareness, to plan, to protect our diminishing wildlife - for ourselves and for posterity.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

As parents of the children murdered by Clifford Olson in 1981 we have been trying to have the blood money paid to him returned to the Province of British Columbia since we learned of the money being paid. We find it deplorable that the man who murdered our children could also profit as a result of his crimes.

Evidence throughout the trials to date have shown that he was in control of the money from the day it was paid to him. He used part of the money to obtain legal counsel to defend himself in the murder trial, and he later used the money to hire lawyers in connection with a contract for a book he planned on writing to further profit from the deaths of our children. We believe that justice demands the return of the blood money.

A recent British Columbia Appeal court decision has again given control of the money to Olson and we simply cannot accept this decision. We would like to take the case to the Supreme Court of Canada, but costs to do so are beyond our means.

We have asked the people of Canada to assist us in our fight for justice and we sincerely appreciate the donations that have come in to date, but unless we receive more assistance we will not be able to continue the fight. Further donations would be sincerely appreciated. Donations to assist us in this effort can be made at any Branch of the Treasury Branch in the Province of Alberta to the "Victim Appeal Fund."

Hopefully, if we can take this case to the Supreme Court, it will set a precedent in that future child murderers will not be able to profit from their crimes.

Sincerely,
Gary Rosenfeldt

The President thanked Terry Elliott for organizing the Family Curling for Thursday nights. He also stated that he would not be a candidate for president for the coming year, and advised an early other choice, so the group would be well prepared to enter the new season in the fall.

Wildlife Week visitor unwelcome

By Irene Magnusson

Murray and Darlene Harper, residing 22 miles east of Elk Point in the Primrose area, said a huge black bear came calling late Sunday evening and attacked their house, tearing the screens, until Darlene yelled at it from another window to "SCAT!", and it did.

Fish and Wildlife officials were notified and a search is underway. Darlene and Murray have two small children so there is cause for concern, especially since a similar bear ripped up a tent in their yard last summer.

MIXED "A" WINNERS — Margaret Clark presents the Pioneer Circle trophies to Yvette and Armand Houle. Missing are Janice and Reo Van Maaron.
